Mrs. "Maggie" Wylie, of San Francisco, has entered a complaint against her husband, Thomas Wylie, at San Jose, charging him with bigamy.

Thomas B. Farmer, foreman of the Dillingham Printing Company at Los Angeles, is dead as the result of accidentally shooting himself while hunting.

The United States collier Nero, Captain Shurtleff, has arrived at San Diego from Philadelphia, with nearly 4000 tons of coal for the Pacific squadron.

The contract for the repairs to the United States cable-ship Burnside has been let to the Heffernan Engine Works of Seattle. As soon as the work is finished, the vessel will begin taking on the remainder of the Alaska cable.

Alexander Casey, a wealthy mine owner and proprietor of the Willard Hotel, at Tucson, Ariz., drove his wife and all his patrons from the hotel with a revolver and seriously wounded a constable before being overpowered.

Robert Russell, who had resided at Santa Cruz since 1850, died in St. Luke's Hospital. He was the owner of the vast Russell tract and leaves an estate valued at $500,000. The deceased was a native of Ireland, 59 years of age.

The E. B. & A. L. Stone Company of San Jose has began a suit against the Board of Trustees of the Stanford University, Mrs. Stanford and others, amounting with cost and attorney's fees, to $15,000, for labor and materials furnished on the natural sciences building.

Leonard Snedigar, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Snedigar, was drowned in a large cement water tank at Modesto. The child tried to feed the geese in the tank and fell in. He was found by searchers some time later. The water was three and a half feet deep.

The well-known Judson farm belonging to the estate of the late H. C. Judson, consisting of 158 acres, has been sold to A. M. Hunter of Utah for $30,000. This place, which is about two miles from Santa Clara, was formerly widely known as the Judson stock farm, where many famous running horses were bred.

Kiri Maida, who butchered two fellow countrymen near Nanaimo, B. C., two months ago by chopping them to pieces with an ax, has been found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged on December 11th. The prisoner betrayed no signs of emotion during the trial and when sentenced bowed to the Judge and left the dock without a tremor.

George W. Elder, contractor in charge of the construction of the Interurban Electric Railway of San Jose, was severely injured by a fall from a buggy. He was crossing Santa Clara street at the intersection of Market, when his buggy collided with a passing street car. Elder was thrown under the wheels of the car and narrowly escaped death. He was severely bruised and his left arm was dislocated. The buggy was wrecked.

The sealing schooner Jessie has arrived at Victoria, B. C., from Behring sea with 450 skins. She reports that the schooner Umbria, which is heading home with 822 skins, lost her mate and two hunters in Behring sea. Their boat lost the schooner during a fog and no trace of them could be found. They are believed to have been drowned. Two hunters from the schooner Zillah May were also lost. All were whites, but their names were not learned. Advices from Behring sea are that the nineteen schooners, with the exception of one vessel, took larger seal catches this season than last year.

A disastrous wreck occurred on the Southern Pacific near Palisade which resulted in the death of three men and the injury of three others. The dead are: D. King, timekeeper; Frank Wagouche, Japanese laborer; T. Jiminesk, Japanese laborer. The injured: Thomas May, fireman, arm bruised; Ed Seldo, foreman on construction work, leg bruised; unknown lady passenger, slight bruises and shock. The engineer of the work train claims that just before section of the passenger train cleared no signals denoting a second section and when his train pulled on the main line the collision followed.

One day last week Randall Wade of San Francisco wandered the streets with an annoying thirst. It was 4 o'clock in the morning and the stores on the corners where he ordinarily might have satisfied his cravings were closed. The petroleum wagons were not yet on the street, and he was almost despairing, when the glare of an electric light shone upon the gaudy labels of a dozen whisky bottles in the show window of Peter Vigneaux at 313 Sixth street. He could see by the wavy lines in the window glass that it would offer no resistance to a determined rap. He was tempted and rapped. Then, with the twelve bottles stowed away about his person, he scuttled around a corner. Shortly after Policemen Bruce, Herlihy and McEntee found a man groveling in anguish on the sidewalk. It was Wade, who had opened one of his bottles and drunk half the contents before his palate informed him that it contained water. The designing liquor dealer had filled the show bottles from a hydrant in order to save risks, and still keep up an appearance of good faith. Despite the agony which Randall was suffering the policemen charged him with burglary, but later thought better of it and reduced the charge to petty larceny.

DUN'S REVIEW OF BUSINESS CONDITIONS

Collections Are Causing Some Uneasiness—Financial Conditions Are Unsettled.

New York.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Industrial activity has increased somewhat, many plants resuming and others preparing to reopen on Monday. Several pending labor controversies have reached amicable adjustment, adding to the aggregate of wage-earners employed. On the other hand, strikes are ordered and some mills will be closed by lack of new business, while the fight for control of the copper properties has thrown thousands out of work. While there is evidence of a setback in the steel industry, some hesitation in textiles in the East, the general tenor of these reports is encouraging for a continuance of prosperity, particularly from the sections where agriculture is the chief occupation. Collections are causing some uneasiness and financial conditions are unsettled. Merchandise is freely distributed, earnings for October thus far surpass last year's by 5.9 per cent.

Purchases of iron and steel products are still restricted to immediate requirements as a rule, although the decline in quotations appears checked. Failures this week were 253 in the United States, against 233 last year, and 15 in Canada, compared with 22 a year ago.

Federal Expenses and Receipts Even.

Washington.—A significant fact is noted in the Treasury statement issued at the close of business last month. It was that the receipts and expenditures of the Government for the first four months of the present fiscal year are practically the same. The total recepits for the fiscal year have been about $190,397,285, and expenditures about $189,811,697, leaving a surplus of about $585,000.

Schooner Breaks in Two.

Victoria, B. C.—The wreck of the four-masted schooner Wempa Brothers of San Francisco, which was driven on Bonilla Point, Vancouver island coast, Tuesday night, has broken up and now not a vestige is to be seen. The schooner first broke in two parts, the after end foundering in deep water. The forward end was broken to kindling wood by the pounding of the breakers.

Printing Plant Burned.

Philadelphia. — The large plant of the Anvil Printing Company in West Philadelphia was destroyed by fire, and much surrounding property damaged. The Anvil building fronted on Market street, and extended back to Filbert street. The entire place was destroyed, entailing a loss estimated at $200,000. Surrounding property was damaged to the extent of upward of $100,000.

HOLY ROLLERS LEAVE SCENE OF ATROCITIES

Apostles Creffield and Brooks Flee From the Wrath of the Populace.

HURT HOUSE HAD BEEN BESIEGED

Converts to the Beliefs of the Peculiar Sect Are Rapidly Reaching a Condition That Forebodes Approaching Insanity.

Corvallis, Or.—The flight of Apostles Creffield and Brooks from town is the latest development in the sensation caused here by the sect known as the "Holy Rollers." They went without ceremony, Creffield in a swiftly driven buggy, going south, and Brooks, it is supposed, departing on foot. Fear of bodily harm, it is said, was the incentive for their flight.

After successfully establishing their sanity before the County Board on Saturday the so-called apostles returned to the Hurt house. As they left the jail they were told of a strong public sentiment against them and were advised to leave town. They laughed at the idea, saying the Lord would protect his own. Sunday, about noon, Hurt, the owner of the Hurt House and a new convert to the sect, accompanied by his son, visited the Sheriff and demanded protection, adding that if the county authorities would not protect the "Holy Rollers" from outrage he would appeal to the Governor. The Sheriff promised assistance and spent most of the night in the Hurt House.

Although a large crowd stood around the house all day until a late hour, no demonstration was made. Creffield and Brooks were anxious to leave the Hurt House early in the afternoon, but a crowd hung around the place all day, and neither cared to attempt flight under such ominous conditions. Late in the afternoon, however, the crowd began to dwindle, and, choosing a convenient opportunity, Brooks left the place and walked hurriedly away. There are reports to the effect that he is still hiding at one of the four or five houses in town in which the families in whole or in part are "Holy Rollers," but the general impression is to the contrary.

Creffield took his leave an hour later. A buggy appeared at the door of the Hurt House, the apostle hurriedly entered it and the conveyance was driven swiftly away, going south. Its destination is supposed to have been an East side town, where an overland train could be boarded. Had the apostles remained in town it is common belief that there would have been further demonstrations. The public believe Creffield and Brooks were leading the converts into a condition likely to produce insanity.

The destruction of furniture has not been confined entirely to the Hurt House, but converts in other immediate localities have burned their earthly possessions. The apostles taught their members to withdraw wholly from the world and have nothing to do with those who remained outside the fold of the "Holy Rollers."

AURORA IS DUE TO SPOTS ON THE SUN

Electrical Disturbances Said to Have Been Caused on the Earth by Solar Gases.

New York.—A cablegram to the Sun from London says: The magnetic storm which prevailed Sunday left the telegraph companies on the Continent with vast arrears of work. The disturbance stopped the running of tram cars in Geneva, where the street railways are operated by electricity, and traffic was not resumed until the phenomenon had passed off.

Sir Oliver Lodge, a distinguished electrician, says that there are evident signs of great eruptions going on in the sun. There are large sun spots now, and surrounding each are the indications that masses of gas, calcium, hydrogen and other vapors, have been thrown up and have spread over an area compared with which Europe is a mere speck. One effect is the emission of electrified particles, such as are known in the laboratory as cathode rays.

These electrical particles, shot out from the sun, and traveling at enormous speed, constitute an electric current of considerable strength. If they pass near the earth they are likely to introduce telegraphic, magnetic and other disturbances. Where they penetrate the earth's atmosphere they give rise to an aurora borealis.

Sir Norman Lockyer, the astronomer, say the phenomenon was predicted ten years ago.

FRIDAY, NOV. 6, 1903.

THANKSGIVING.

Governor Pardee, pursuant to the usual custom, has issued a proclamation declaring Thursday, Nov. 26, 1903 a legal holiday.

ALMOST A VOLCANO

Last Wednesday afternoon on Iona island, near New York, a most terrific explosion occurred, when 400 tons of smokeless gun powder in the government store house there, blew up. It was like a bombardment, lasting four hours. Only four men were seriously hurt, although nearly every man on the island received a wound of some sort. The loss will reach into the millions.

THAT PRESERVATION

We regret to state that nothing has been done in regard to the protection of the "Old Mission" church and buildings.

The Examiner has been communicated with in regard to the the fact that the buildings will not stand if one good rain storm should come on, but, saw fit to make no response.

If something is not done soon, Sonoma people can show visitors to our city the pile of dirt that used to be the "Old Mission."

The committee appointed by Sonoma Parlor, N. S. G. W. are powerless to act until given the authority by those in whose name the property stands.

PROGRESSIVE SONOMA

As will be seen in another column, Sonoma City compares very favorably with other cities in California in regard to tax rate at least.

We are entirely out of debt with plenty of money on hand for running expeses for a year without this years taxes and sufficient has been set aside also to build a fine new stone city hall, This will be commenced early in the new year.

The city is also making preparations to have an artesian well to supply the city with water for all public uses.

To those who will not work if they can find anything else to do, we say don't come to Sonoma. To those seeking employment and desiring to make a home Sonoma is the ideal place to settle.

New Jewelry Store.

Sonoma is to have a new store strictly up to date in every detail. Mount & Ross, expert watch and clock repairers, have opened a branch of their Petaluma establishment here and are now prepared to repair your time pieces, and guarantee their work.

Mr. Mount has had thirty-five years' experience in the business and comes very highly recommended as a skillful mechanic in the most delicate and difficult work.

The firm are here to stay and it goes without saying that the people of Sonoma Valley will gladly welcome them with their patronage.

COURT NEWS

Resume of Monday's Proceedings in Both Departments of Justice.—Cases Submitted and Set for Trial.—Executors of Wills are Appointed.—Much Other Business Transacted.

(Monday.)

The following is the resume of the calendar day proceedings in the Superior Court:

In Judge Seawell's department the divorce action of Jennie Benjamin against William Benjamin was submitted.

The demurrer was submitted in the action of Burris vs Flannigan.

The motion to strike out in the action of Gagliardo vs Gagliardo was denied. The costs were taxed at $30. The other suit of Gagliardo vs Gagliardo was dropped from the calendar.

The trial of the action of Cochran vs Bones was set for December 15, of Ogan vs Ogan for November 12, and Howard vs Haehl reset for December 8.

The action of Page vs Wickersham was continued to November 9.

A sale of property of the estate of W. P. Ink was confirmed.

John Olson was appointed executor of the will of Joseph P. Smith without bonds.

The will of John C. Pfhingston was admitted to probate and Fred G. Nagle was appointed executor without bonds.

Sales of property of the estate of M. J. Striening was confirmed.

(Tuesday.)

The Board of Supervisors continued the transaction of county business at the Courthouse today.

Upon motion the sum of $7,937.20 was ordered transferred from the Swamp Fund to the County General Fund.

The Walls Ford bridge being in need of repairs, it was ordered that the same be carried out.

Road Commissioner Blair Hart's bills were allowed as follows: Lakeville road district $919.54; Penngrove $728.34; Glen Ellen $129.50; Agua Caliente $100.50.

THE SUPERVISORS BEGIN BUSINESS

The Board May Pass Automobile Ordinance at This Month's Session.—Court House Roof to be Painted Before Winter Sets in.—Routine Matters of the First Day.

(Monday.)

The Board of Supervisors began the business of the November session on Monday morning at the Court house. Chairman Frank Glynn presided and Supervisors Joe McMinn, H. W. Austin, E. B. Hart and G. J. Armstrong were at their desks.

Clerk Fred L. Wright read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved as read.

The board then took up the regular business of the first day of the session, auditing the bills of the road commissioners and attending to other matters.

The contract was awarded to L. Borland to paint the roof of the Courthouse and all the tinwork. The contract price is $70.

Each of the members of the board was served on Monday with a copy of the third amended complaint in the action brought by Otto Zink on account of the alleged diversion of water by means of a culvert. The matter has been hanging fire for some time.

It is expected that the supervisors will pass an ordinance this week regulating the speed at which automobiles can be run along the roads of the county. The passing of such an ordinance has been petitioned for and is considered quite desirable.

CITY TRUSTEES IN SESSION.

Bills Passed—Breitenbach brings up the City Well Question.

The City Trustees met in the Pavilion last Wednesday evening, all members being present except Trustee Ciucci. The following bills were allowed: A. Caminata, labor, $2.15; J. H. Albertson, salary, etc., $18.80; Charles Torni, labor, $2; R. G. Shoults, merchandise, $2.25; L. Breitenbach, street sprinkling, etc., $60.20; J. B. Small, salary, $25; L. H. Green, lumber, $29 68.

Now that the water main has been laid south on Napa street, Mr. Duhring asked the Board to place a fire hydrant near his house, opposite the grammar school.

On motion of Trustee Breitenbach the request was granted.

Trustee Breitenbach then brought up the question of boring an artesian well to procure water for the plaza and other city purposes and insisted on something being done right away. After some discussion it was moved by Trustee Hotz and seconded by Trustee Pinelli that the Fire and Water Committee be instructed to draw up specifications for the work and post notices asking for bids. The site of the well is to be definitely determined later.

No further business appearing the meeting adjourned.

HALLOWEEN ENTERTAINMENT

An Enjoyable Evening—A Financial Success.

One of the pleasantest of events of the year took place at Union hall last Friday evening, the occasion being the annual bazaar and entertainment given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The candy booth was in charge of Misses Elizabeth Davis and Janet Munfrey; Miss Lowell did a land-office business with the grab bag; Mrs. Hotz and Mrs. Burlingame merchandised successfully in fancy work, and Mrs. Calderwood sold plenty of fine coffee, etc., and Mrs. Lutgens dispensed delicious ice cream.

The skillful local playwrights, Mrs. Burlingame and Mrs. Appleton made a popular hit in their new play, "Halloween at Miss Pinchem's Boarding School."

Miss Elizabeth Davis gave a well-rendered piano solo.

The audience were delighted with the Vestal Virgin's candle drill and tableau.

The net proceeds of the evening are estimated at fully $165. Those having the entertainment in charge worked very hard and naturally feel gratified at the excellent results.

Nick Salvarossa was arrested last Thursday by City Marshal Albertson for discharging firearms in the city limits. He plead guilty before Judge Small and was fined five dollars.

The Influence of the Youth's Companion

The gospel of good cheer brightens every page of the youth's Companion. Although the paper is nearly seventy-seven years of age, it does not look back on the past as a better period than the present one.

The Companion believes that the time most full of promise is the time we are living in, and every weekly issue reflects this spirit of looking forward and not backward.

To more than half a million American families it carries every week its message of cheer. Its stories picture the true characteristics of the young men and women of America. Its articles bring nearly three million readers in touch with the best thought of the most famous of living men and women.

Annual announcement number fully describing the principal features of The Companion's new volume for 1904 will be sent to any address free.

The new subscriber for 1904 will receive all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1903 free from the time of subscription, also The Companion calendar for 1904, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.

MUCH PROPERTY DEEDED TO STATE

People Who for Various Reasons Have Failed to Pay Their Taxes. —Title is Now Transferred to the State of California and Land Will be Sold to the Highest Bidder.

County Tax Collector Grace Friday filed in the County Recorder's office a batch of deeds transferring property to the state upon which taxes had gone delinquent for five years. County Clerk Fred Wright previous to the filing duly acknowledged the Tax Collector's execution of the deeds.

Under the law it becomes the duty of the tax collector to deed to the state all property upon which taxes have gone delinquent for the period named. During the past five or six years there have been a number of these deeds made, and in some instances the non-payment of taxes has been due to negligence on the part of the owners, some of whom have been non residents, and may not have noticed the delinquent list when published. Of course when the delinquent property is deeded to the state it is removed from the assessment roll. The following are the names of the owners of the property transferred to the state in the deeds recorded Friday.

Hannah A. Cooley, Knights Valley; M. Cole, Santa Rosa City; Michael Clark, Mendocino township; J. Carroll, Stewart's Point; James Burtt, Sonoma township; A. Russell, Petaluma township; Jennie Bull, Petaluma city; Thomas Brown, Sonoma township; Catherine M. Barr, Russian river township; L. Allenburg, Santa Rosa city; Lily T. GOING OUT

Shopping is not always the amusing pastime for women which newspaper paragraphers would have us believe. Many a women who must needs practice economy attends bargain sales in absolute dread of the eager, jostling crowd which she must encounter. For her back aches at the start, and she knows that she must pay for her shopping with a nervous headache.

Women who suffer from backache, headache, nervousness and other consequences of womanly diseases are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This great medicine for women establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"My wife, Mrs. Mary Estes, has been taking your medicine and received great benefit from it," writes Mr. George Wm. Estes, of Springgrove, Va. "Was troubled with female weakness, heavy bearing-down pains, severe pain in back and head, and a tired, worn-out feeling all the time. Tried all the remedies we could hear of, but they did no good. Finally we wrote to you and my wife commenced taking 'Favorite Prescription.' Took ten bottles, and is in better health than before in a long time."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines.

Electrical Fishes.

The electrical fishes do not belong to any one class or group—some are found in fresh water, while others inhabit the sea. They possess two distinct types of electrical organs. One closely relates in structure to muscle, as found in the torpedo, gymnotus and skate, while the other presents more of the characters of the structure of a secreting gland, as illustrated by the electrical organ of the thunderfish. Both types are built upon a vast number of microscopical elements, each of which is supplied with a nerve fiber. These nerve fibers come from large nerves that originate in the nerve centers, brain or spinal cord, and in these centers are found special large nerve cells, with which the nerve fibers of the electric organs are connected and from which they spring. Yet the electricity is generated in the electric organ itself. In these animals there are specialized organs for the production of electricity on an economical basis far surpassing anything yet contrived by man.—American Inventor.

On His Mind.

The most of it has been built up by the Parana or Rio de la Plata system, and today these rivers are still at their great work of earth building.

A Mental Strain.

"I'm thinking of a trip to California," said Smartie.

"Really, old man," remarked Peprey, "you can't afford that. You're not accustomed to that sort of thing."

"I merely said I was thinking of it. I can afford to think, can't I?"

"No; that's what I meant. You're not accustomed to thinking."—Philadelphia Press.

A Substitute Watch Crystal.

Did you ever smash your watch crystal just when you could not possibly replace it? When it happens again, shake out the broken glass, open the little rim that holds it—the bezel—lay over the face a piece of tissue paper and shut the bezel. This will save the hands from catching in things and not interfere with the going.

The examined scratched his head a moment and answered, "Charge his double, of course."

Chronic Sores Eating Ulcers, A Constant Drain Upon the System.

Nothing is a source of so much trouble as an old sore or ulcer, particularly when located upon the lower extremities where the circulation is weak and sluggish. A gangrenous eating ulcer upon the leg is a frightful sight, and as the poison burrows deeper and deeper into the tissue beneath and the sore continues to spread, one can almost see the flesh melting away and feel the strength going out with the sickening discharges. Great running sores and deep offensive ulcers often develop from a simple boil, swollen gland, bruise or pimple, and are a threatening danger always, because, while all such sores are not cancerous, a great many are, and this should make you suspicious of all chronic, slow-healing ulcers and sores, particularly if cancer runs in your family. Face sores are common and cause the greatest annoyance because they are so persistent and unsightly and detract so much from one's personal appearance.

Middle aged and old people and those whose blood is contaminated and tainted with the germs and poison of malaria or some previous sickness, are the chief sufferers from chronic sores and ulcers. While the blood remains in an unhealthy, polluted condition healing is impossible, and the sore will continue to grow and spread in spite of washes and salves or any superficial or surface treatment, for the sore is but the outward sign of some constitutional disorder, a bad condition of the blood and system which local remedies cannot cure. A blood purifier and tonic is what you need. Something to cleanse the blood, restore its lost properties, quicken the circulation and invigorate the constitution, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy.

S. S. S. reaches these old chronic sores through the blood. It goes to the very root of the trouble and counteracts and removes from the blood all the impurities and poisons, and gradually builds up the entire system and strengthens the sluggish circulation, and when the blood has been purified and the system purged of all morbid, unhealthy matter the healing process begins, and the ulcer or sore is soon entirely gone.

S. S. S. contains no mineral or poisonous drugs of any description, but is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy, a blood purifier and tonic combined and a safe and permanent cure for chronic sores and ulcers. If you have a slow-healing sore of any kind, external or internal, write us about it, and our physicians will advise you without charge. Book on "The Blood and Its Diseases" free.

SORES ON BOTH ANKLES.

Gentlemen: About ten years ago a small sore came on each of my ankles. Dew got into the places and they became large, eating ulcers, and I suffered intensely for nearly ten years. I had spent more than $500.00 trying to get well when I chanced to see S. S. S. advertised in a Memphis paper. I began to take it and was cured. My limbs have never been sore or given me any pain at all since. I have recommended S. S. S. to a great many people, and am now giving it to my nine-year-old son for Eczema. During my long sickness I was living near Memphis, Tenn., but have since removed to Kansas City, and am now residing at No. 614 East Sixteenth Street.

Dealers Try to Charge Him Three Prices for Everything.

"To be a millionaire is not all joy," he said, getting out of his $12,000 motor car.

"The deuce it isn't."

"Well, it isn't."

"Why isn't it?"

"On account of the way everybody piles it on you in the matter of prices. For instance, this morning a dentist sent my wife's bill for $150. He hasn't done much to her teeth, and the bill seems exorbitant. I am on my way now to get another dentist's opinion on it, and this other fellow will certainly charge me for his advice, and he may be, furthermore, a friend of the first man's, and on account of friendship he may say the bill is all right."

"How provoking."

"Isn't it? I have to bind everybody I do business with down to a contract. Unless I say, 'Now how much are you going to charge?' Draw up a paper. Put it down in black and write'—unless I fence myself in with every precaution, I am fleeced on all sides. Because I am a millionaire people take me for a fool. They think they can charge me double, treble and quadruple. I'm in hot water with them all the time.

"Remember," he went on, "that $8 pair of shoes you showed me last month? Well, I went to your bootmaker and ordered a pair just like them, and when the bill came home it was for $15. I had made no contract. Hence I had to pay up.

"Doctors and lawyers charge me tremendous rates. They don't gain anything by it, but they gain more than I do, at that. I keep changing from one to another. But it does me no good. They're all alike.

"When I go to buy a horse I leave my own carriage three or four blocks away, and I make my purchase before revealing my name. How mad the dealers look when they hear my name—when they perceive that they have given reasonable rates to a well-known millionaire! But it's seldom I get the better of a bargain in this way."—Philadelphia Record.

FEW PAY THE PUGILISTS.

Their Large Incomes Do Not Come from the Public at Large.

"When the American public will pay $33,000 to one man for the sake of seeing him hit another man in the pit of the stomach and will pay the other man $11,000 for the sake of seeing him receive the blow it is evident that there is ample field in which the civilizing agencies may exercise their most strenuous endeavors. Think of the good causes that $44,000 might have promoted."

The above paragraph is going the rounds of the Iowa papers, credited in some cases to the Des Moines Register and Leader and in others to the Dubuque Times. The trouble with the item is that the American public did not pay that $44,000. It was a very insignificant and really inconsequential portion of the population of the great republic which contributed to the pecuniary welfare of the face-beaters at San Francisco. The American people as a rule are too sensible to squander the [illegible] was to be seen every day between certain hours, and that if the Duke of Argyll presented his card he would no doubt be admitted like the rest of the public.

An amusing story is told of President Loubet's humble brother-in-law, whom an enterprising interviewer called upon directly after the French President's election. "How did you take the news?" asked the interviewer. "Oh, fairly well; without any rejoicings, of course. Now, here am I, for example, an ironmonger; in what way do you suppose it will benefit me that my brother-in-law is President of the republic? Why, this very morning I received three letters from people begging me to get them government tobacco shops. That is the only advantage that the election will bestow upon me. People fancy that I have influence, and I shall therefore be worried."

During his last years, Pope Leo, who had done so much for his relatives in a financial way, found it necessary on several occasions to refuse the requests of his nephews for further aid. The wife of one of these nephews is said to have undertaken to get some money from him. She solicited an interview, and, having obtained it, said: "Holy Father, I come to seek your advice. I am poor. I have a large family, and, alas! I am in debt. I have been gifted by heaven with a good voice, and the proprietor of a music hall has offered me a large salary to appear on his stage and sing a few simple songs. Ought I to accept the offer?" "Certainly," replied his Holiness; "and I only regret that my official position will not allow me to be present at your debut."

WOES OF THE MILLIONAIRE.

Mrs. Emmons, saved from an operation for Ovaritis, tells how she was cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I am so pleased with the results I obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it a duty and a privilege to write you about it.

"I suffered for over five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge, a great weakness, and at times a faintness would come over me which no amount of medicine, diet, or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound found the weak spot, however, within a few weeks—and saved me from an operation—all my troubles had disappeared, and I found myself once more healthy and well. Words fail to describe the real, true grateful feeling that is in my heart, and I want to tell every sick and suffering sister. Don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and take my word for it, you will be a different woman in a short time."—MRS. LAURA EMMONS, Walkerville, Ont.

TRAPPED ON A LEDGE.

A member of a party sent out by the Smithsonian Institution in the early eighties to explore the canon of the Colorado, recalls an experience the memory of which, he assures his friends, still makes his hair tingle at the roots. This is his story:

I had left the party for an all-day exploration on my own account, and at four o'clock in the afternoon I was working gingerly along a ledge which projected from the wall of the canon. It was a dizzy spot, with the rocky walls running straight down to the river bed.

I came at last to a break in the ledge—a sort of vertical split in the wall of the canon. It was about five feet across, and a tree grew on the other side, rooted hard and fast among the crannies. "Lucky thing," said I to myself, "that this tree is here," and grabbing a branch that stuck out in my direction, I swung myself across to the ledge on the other side of the gap.

Well, I started along all right, but inside of two minutes I came to the end of the ledge. There was nothing to do but go back, and back I went. When I got to the gap once more, I felt just the way an animal must feel when it is caught in a box-trap.

The tree by which I had swung myself across was now on my side of the ledge, and furnished me no more help in getting back than if it hadn't been there.

I knew that no human help would ever reach me, so I just had to cling to the rough wall and try to make up my mind to jump across from one narrow ledge to the other, right across an open space with a drop of four hundred feet and nothing but rocks below me.

A hundred times I had my mind all made up, but every time I looked down into the canon my courage failed.

It was very nearly dark before I jumped. I can remember even now how my nails scraped across the rocks when I attempted to retain a foothold on the other side. My feet were all alive with tingling nerves as they slipped over the gravel on the ledge, but when I found that I was standing safely on the other side, I felt warm all over at first, and then, although it was a hot day, I had a real chill, and shook as if I had the ague.

PUSS IN THE LION'S DEN.

Little Cat Insisted on Being Friends with Her Big Cousin.

Tiny, a pet cat at Glen Island, was seen one morning mewing piteously under a cage containing a large lion. She had been injured, and hopped about on three legs. For comfort or perhaps companionship, she crawled into the lion's cage and began to make herself at home. The lion opened his eyes wide with wonder at the presumption, then for a time paid no more attention to her than if she had been a fly.

A keeper took a long-handled broom and tried to shove her out of the cage. The lion snarled and his eyes shone wickedly. Tiny started toward the lion, when the big cat threw out his paw to push her away. Taking the lion's act only in play, she was up in a second, and, clasping the huge paw between her tiny fore feet, she began to lick it affectionately. From that moment the injured kitten and the lion were friends.

She afterward took a shine to the polar bear and crawled between the bars of the den, but the bear looked at her askance and then climbed up the rocks in the rear of the den, where it was safe.

The only cage that puss keeps away from is occupied by a black monkey, which thrust its paw out and clutched the end of Tiny's tail and bit it.—New York Mail and Express.

SERMONS OF THE WEEK

School Life.—School life is composed of three composites—the home, the teacher and the pupil.—Rev. W. B. Slutz, Methodist, Pittsburg, Pa.

Labor.—The history of centuries reveals the fact that the greater the civilization the more honorable labor becomes.—Rev. R. H. Hood, Presbyterian, Pittsburg, Pa.

Real Christian.—It is easy to be a nominal Christian, for a profession will accomplish that. It is difficult to be a real one, for that involves a right heart.—Rev. La Crandall, Baptist, Chicago, Ill.

Blood Money.—There are men in the church to-day who are receiving blood money, the revenue that comes from a shameful and dishonest business.—Rev. A. R. Holderley, Methodist, Atlanta, Ga.

Man's Spirit.—"You cannot judge a man solely by his acts. You must probe deeper. You must determine the spirit which actuates him and ascertain its origin."—Rev. D. Hart,, Hebrew, Denver, Colo.

Smiles of Eire.—The smiles and smirks of an evil person are not signs of life, but danger signals that warn us against falling into an open sepulcher.—Rev. C. G. Greenwood, Baptist, Westfield, N. J.

Industrial Conditions.—The industrial problem will never be solved on the principle of class selfishness, but only on the basis of the highest welfare for all.—Rev. J. H. Speer, Presbyterian, Denver, Colo.

Honesty.—Honesty is one of the first principles of Christianity. It lies at the base and also at the apex of Christian character. It must be the dominant force in all traffic.—Rev. F. R. Pardington, Methodist, Bethel, Conn.

God and Mammon.—Because we serve both God and Mammon we find an equal amount in our surroundings. The devil is still alive with us so long as we act him, and the Christ nature repudiated.—Rev. F. E. Mason, Scientist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rivals of the Pulpit.—To-day the pulpit has more powerful rivalry than ever before. The newspaper press, the cheap magazines and the free libraries fill in part the place once occupied by the pulpit alone.—Rev. D. MacArthur, Baptist, New York City.

Evangelism.—The spirit of world evangelism was never more marked than it is to-day. The Methodist Church alone is preaching the gospel in sixteen languages, to say nothing of the marvelous work beyond the seas.—Rev. W. A. Frye, Methodist, Lansing, Mich.

The Resurrection.—The resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead is the supreme warrant of our faith in Him as the image of the invisible God. The church has also found in that resurrection her charter. If Christ is not risen the whole Christian theory of life collapses and the fruits of the theory are illogical and its hopes factious.—Rev. M. W. Stryker, Presbyterian, Clinton, N. Y.

Capital and Labor.—In the present fomentation in the industrial world we need leaders who see the parts in relation to the whole. Neither capital nor labor must demand all. One has gold to exchange for work and the other has work to exchange for gold. Neither should be exorbitant.—Rev. M. E. Harlan, Disciple, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Law of Life.—There is no higher form of life reached, there is no development of personal intellect, there is no prosperous business maintained, there is no higher level of political or social life reached, save along one invariable line—struggle with and conquest of opposition. The law of life is attainment through overcoming.—Rev. J. B. Clark, Presbyterian, Detroit, Mich.

Redemption.—Adam fell and sin came. Redemption was purchased by a slain Jesus and a risen Lord; and we, now, each week, celebrate His day of resurrection in combination with worship of God who commanded and the world was, and who showed His supreme love for man in sacrificing for our redemption, Christ, His Son, in whom He was well pleased.—Rev. A. J. Henry, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Work and Win.—Do not people somehow really feel that to support the church, to be charitable and generous, to observe the formal requisitions of religion, is enough. That they hereby purchase the goal of spiritual attainment? And how incongruous it is for people to feel so, who know so well that they get nothing in any other department of life without working for it! Work and win is the true law of both the temporal and the spiritual life.—Rev. J. B. Clark, Presbyterian, Detroit, Mich.

Professing Christians.—If you are active Christians, if you make a loud profession of your religion, you may be sure your neighbors will talk about you, and you may congratulate yourself if you do not get your name in the papers. They are sure to find some flaw in your character, to weigh against your zeal in God's service. The fellow who is merely a silent, indifferent member of the church, who never opens his mouth to testify, for Christ, will have a much easier time.—Rev. D. M. McLean, Methodist, Bismark, North Dakota.

Modest.

"Remember," said the serious man, "that money is not the only thing to be striven for in this life."

"Maybe not," answered Senator Sorghum, "but a whole lot of people think it is, and I am not egotist enough to try to set any new fashions."—Washington Star.
